NEW COLLECTION OF ~EOS~ FABRICS

Two years after the launch of the first Eos collection, Scabal is rereleasing this luxurious fabric with twenty new and exclusive designs presented in a stylish boxed set.

Eos, the Greek goddess of the dawn and mother of the wind gods, is often depicted as a winged figure. She symbolizes elegance and grace, making her a natural choice for Scabal. It has created Eos, a 250-gram featherlight fabric with all the refinement of silk, in her honour.

Eos is 55% silk and 45% Super 180's wool. The silk gives it a beautiful natural sheen, whilst extra-fine Merino wool creates an exceptional drape and weightlessness.

The fabrics in this collection have been serge woven. The main feature of this weave is its diagonal appearance. A vertical warp thread runs over and under a horizontal weft thread.

The colour palette is sober, with shades ranging from light grey to black, including mid-grey, charcoal, sea blue and navy blue. The designs are elegant, featuring discrete stripes, herringbones, plain and semi-plain patterns.

The new Eos collection will be available in April 2013.
